

Sitemap Guide

A sitemap is a visual design of a website in a hierarchical order. It is an outline to help you stay coordinated, organized, and easily understood what the website is all about.

At the header, there is the Homepage where we can see the title of the website.

At the second order of the sitemap, there are three primary navigation items, namely: About, Contact, and Services navigation items. They are the main navigation of the website.

Under the About navigation item, there are secondary navigation items like History, Mission, and Members. History and Mission items have Photos and Icons under them. This portion will discuss about the history of the webpage, its mission, and its members.

Meanwhile, under the Contact navigation item, it has E-mail, Contact Number, Postal Address, and Message secondary navigation items that have Icons under the first three. This portion of the webpage shows the contact information of the webpage to make it easy for the audience to make inquiries/suggestions/reservations in the webpage.

Lastly, under the Services navigation item are the Events/Celebrations, Application, and Amenities. Those primary navigation items have photos, thumbnails, and icons as their secondary navigation items. This portion showcases the activities and the view of the place found in the webpage.

At the footer of the site, social media pages affiliated with the webpage should be included.
